Vardhanti of Goddess Chamundeshwari

Mysuru, July 10 (MTY&DM)- The Chamundeshwari Vardhanti (Jayanti of the Goddess) atop Chamundi Hill was held this morning in the presence of a huge crowd, with devotees from all parts of the State thronging the Hill Temple to seek the blessings of the deity on this special day.

The associated pujas and rituals began at 5.30 am with the performance of Mahanyasa Poorvaka Rudrabhisheka, Panchamruta Abhisheka and Sahasranaamarchane.

The rituals culminated with Mangalaarathi at about 7.30 am and the devotees were allowed inside the temple around 8 am.

After another round of rituals, the Mahamangalaarathi was held at 9.30 am, following which the specially decorated idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari was brought outside the temple at 10 am and kept in the Golden Palanquin (Chinnada Pallakki) which was placed on a wheeled carriage, following which puja was performed.

The Vardhanti Utsava formally began at 10.30 am with Mysore Royal family members Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, Yaduveer Krishandatta Chamaraja Wadiyar and Trishikha Kumari Wadiyar, pulling the Pallakki for a distance.

Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy also joined them. [See another pic. on page 7]

Transport and Muzrai Minister Ramalinga Reddy and former Minister H.M. Revanna too joined in pulling the Pallakki.

Marking the Vardhanti celebration, the Golden Palanquin was taken around the temple, amidst chanting of hymns and loud cheers of the huge crowd. The temple was decorated with a variety of flowers and other articles for the occasion.

Free bus service

With devotees allowed entry to the temple at 8 am, the KSRTC started operating free buses from Lalitha Mahal grounds only after 7 am, as a crowd regulation measure. But devotees visiting the temple by climbing of steps, had started gathering at the Hill Temple from 6 am itself and formed long queues.

Today, a good number of VIP, VVIP and on-duty vehicles were seen parked atop the Hill, which was unusually higher when compared to the three Ashada Fridays on June 23, 30 and July 7. The Police had made elaborate security arrangements for the grand event.

The Vardhanti will culminate with the performance of Utsava Phalapuja at 8.30 pm followed by Durbar Utsava and Mantapotsava.

The fourth and last Ashada Friday falls on July 14.

New Musical Fountain to open soon at KRS

Four-time bigger fountain with water jets spewing mist and fire to alluring laser lights

By Vinay Karekura

Srirangapatna, July 10- The renovation and restoration of the popular Musical Fountain at Brindavan Gardens in Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam are currently in their final stages and a new and uniquely-designed fountain will be thrown open to the public by the end of July.

The fountain is a synchronised water, light and music show that takes place every evening for over an hour — now it is closed due to renovation. The water jets are choreographed to the music and the lights are used to create a variety of patterns and effects. The show is accompanied by a variety of Indian music, including classical, folk and popular songs.

The Musical Fountain is a popular attraction for both locals and tourists. It is a great way to experience the beauty of the Brindavan Gardens and to enjoy a unique and entertaining show.

Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNNL) Assistant Executive Engineer (AEE) Abu Farooq told Star of Mysore this morning that the renovation works began in March this year and the total estimate of the project is Rs. 2.6 crore.

"Mumbai-based Green Care Company is implementing the project and we will have a new and captivating musical fountain by July-end," he said.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Karnataka Chief Minister Siddharamaiah has often been acclaimed for his financial prudence and rightly so because fiscal discipline marked the previous budgets he presented even while pushing many populist schemes. He also has the credit of presenting the State's first revenue surplus budget over a decade ago. The budget he presented on Friday is, however, a departure from this record, with the revenue deficit crossing over Rs. 12,500 crore.

Admittedly, this is due to the Rs. 52,000 crore that he had to set aside to fulfill the five guarantees promised by the Congress in its election manifesto. His predecessor, Basavaraj Bommai, had presented a budget, although he should have ideally presented only a vote-on-account, with a total expenditure of Rs. 3,09,183 crore and a revenue surplus of Rs. 402 crore. Siddharamaiah has estimated a total expenditure of Rs. 3,27,747 crore.

The Karnataka Fiscal Responsibility (KFR) Act requires the State to present a revenue surplus budget. The revenue deficit projected is thus a violation of the Act. Siddharamaiah must hope for redemption from the fact that the expenditure on the guarantees will benefit some 1.3 crore families, and will accrue to the State in indirect ways.

That the budget has something for all sectors — impetus to irrigation, schemes for farmers, a new education policy, special schemes for women, children, weaker sections and minorities, strengthening of Gram Panchayats and, of course, the unmissable annual promise to upgrade Bengaluru to a world-class city — has to do with the upcoming Lok Sabha election. While there is nothing radically new in Siddharamaiah's proposals, it is a welfare budget out-and-out. The Chief Minister has promised to strike a balance between welfare and development and to take steps to rejuvenate the economy by, among other things, increasing capital expenditure. This should not remain a mere promise. The success of the welfare measures will lie not in how many people enroll for the handouts but in how many can be weaned off them and how soon.

Rash driving by KSRTC and other drivers: What needs to be done?

Sir,

I write in reference to Rohit Biddappa's letter titled 'Rash driving by KSRTC bus drivers on Mysuru-Kodagu Road' published in SOM dated July 5, as well as the concerns raised by several other vigilant Mysureans regarding the reckless driving behaviours exhibited by the KSRTC drivers.

While Biddappa's suggestions to mitigate frequent accidents are commendable, their implementation poses significant challenges. Allow me to elaborate on some of the difficulties involved:

a. Speed governors, although proposed as a solution, can be easily tampered with by drivers, rendering them ineffective.

b. While driver training programmes are beneficial, it is uncertain whether the drivers themselves are willing to undergo such training.

c. Regrettably, the presence of law enforcement officers monitoring traffic in the city is scarce and those on duty often appear preoccupied with their mobile phones.

In addition to the concerns raised, I would like to highlight several pressing issues pertaining to road safety on the Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway and other roads in and around Mysuru:

1. Widespread usage of mobile phones by drivers of buses, cars, and motorcycles, resulting in distracted driving.

2. Deplorable road conditions are characterised by potholes and craters.

3. Insufficient or non-existent street lighting after dark.

4. Frequent instances of reckless overtaking.

5. Rampant instances of rash driving and excessive speeding.

6. Violations of traffic signals.

7. Instances of driving against the flow of traffic.

8. An increase in the presence of stray cattle poses a severe threat to motorists.

Additionally, there is another critical issue that demands immediate attention but has remained overlooked thus far — the vegetable market located on M.G. Road. This market poses significant dangers to both pedestrians and motorists on a daily basis.

Vendors and suppliers haphazardly park their vehicles, causing complete obstruction of traffic flow. Since there is no median on this stretch of road, vehicles are forced to drive against the traffic, exacerbating congestion and chaos.

Furthermore, the vendors and suppliers negligently dispose of rotten vegetables onto the road, attracting stray cattle that roam freely across the thoroughfare.

Repeatedly, I have raised this concern in SOM, yet the responsible authorities have consistently turned a blind eye to this and other pressing matters mentioned above.

It is high time for the authorities to awaken from their complacency and recognise that our city is deteriorating day by day. If we aspire to emulate cities like Indore, it is crucial that our citizens also demonstrate care and concern for their own surroundings.

I implore you all — Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra, MP Pratap Simha, Mayor Shivakumar, Police Commissioner B. Ramesh, ADGP (Traffic & Road Safety) Alok Kumar and SP Seema Latkar — to lend us your ears and address these issues promptly.

The safety, security and well-being of our citizens necessitate urgent action from each of you. Let us tackle these concerns collectively and resolutely.

Air Ambulance service vital for saving lives: MP Sumalatha

Dr. C.N. Mruthyunjayappa Adarsha Vaidya Seva Award presented

Mysuru, July 10 (SBD&DM)- Mandya MP Sumalatha Ambarish said that Air Ambulance service is vital for saving lives during accidents as we are seeing many accidents on Highways and Expressways across the country.

She was speaking at 'Dr. C.N. Mruthyunjayappa Adarsha Vaidya Seva' Award presentation programme organised jointly by Mysuru City and District Unit of Akhila Bharata Sharana Sahitya Parishat and Kadali Mahila Vedike, at Navajyothi auditorium in JSS Women's College here on Saturday.

Pointing out that the awardee Dr. Shalini Nalwad, Director of International Critical Care Air Transfer Team (ICATT), has been rendering service to the society through Air Ambulance that helps with aero-medical transfer of critically ill patients, accident victims, victims of natural disasters and internal organs, Sumalatha said she was ready to extend full co-operation for the Air Ambulance service.

Noting that Dr. Shalini Nalwad is a native of Mandya, who did her MBBS at JSS Medical College in Mysuru and Post-Graduate degree in Anaesthesia from College of Anaesthesia in Ireland, Sumalatha recalled her own experience of the need of Air Ambulance when her actor-husband Ambarish fell seriously ill in 2014 and was to be airlifted to Singapore for treatment. She further said that Dr. Shalini's parents, who hailed from Mandya, were known to Ambarish.

Speaking after receiving the award, Dr. Shalini Nalwad said speedy and appropriate treatment can save the lives of many who are in critical condition. But shifting the critically ill in time to a distant Hospital is difficult most of the times and this is where Air Ambulance service helps us a lot.

Noting that one person dies every four minutes either due to accident or critical illness, she said that timely shifting to the Hospital, which is known as the 'Golden Hour' can help save the life of 30 to 40 percent of such victims. The speed with which the critical persons should be shifted to the Hospital made her to launch the campaign for Air Ambulance service, she added.

Dr. C.N. Mruthyunjayappa Adarsha Vaidya Seva awardee Dr. Shalini Nalwad and her parents Nagarajappa and Nagamani too were honoured.

Suttur Mutt Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji graced the occasion. JSS Medical College Principal Dr. H. Basavanagowdappa, MLC K.S. Naveen, Trustee of Dr. CNM Trust and donor of the award Sudha Mruthyunjayappa, Sharana Sahitya Parishat District President Helavarahundi Siddappa, City President M.G. Sadanandaiah, Kadali Mahila Vedike President Sharada Shivalingaswamy and others were present.

Dr. C. N. Mruthyunjayappa (popularly known as "Dr. CNM" or "Sargur Doctor") was a man of many talents, interests and passions. A medical practitioner by profession, an environmentalist, plant grafting expert and a philanthropist, Dr. CNM lived a highly principled life and contributed to the society in various ways. He was well-known for his free medical service to the underprivileged, development of rural education, fight against superstitious beliefs and harmful social practices, promotion of Basavanna's principles and contribution towards environment conservation and plant variety protection. Dr. CNM Trust, a social service organisation, was established in 2018 to carry on the legacy of Dr. CNM.

Will MUDA hear their pleas at least now?

Lalithadrinagar (North) has 500 plus sites, but only two have built house; basic amenities elude them still, with repeated pleas to authorities going unheard from six years

Mysuru, July 10 (CN&BS)- A site to build a dream home with better amenities is the wish of many. But barring the joy of building a house, the only two dwellers of a locality nestled in the lap of Chamundi Hill in the outskirts of the city, live with anxiety writ large on their face.

This is the pathetic story of residents of Lalithadrinagar (North) where over 500 sites were allotted to the applicants by Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) six years ago in 2017-18. While two of the allottees built houses, the larger portion of the layout remains vacant, forcing them to live in fear for several reasons.

Six years have elapsed since the sites were allotted, MUDA has washed off its hands since then, ignoring the basic demands of the plot owners to lead a life like electricity and drinking water supply. As the sun sets, the fear among dwellers rise with an eerie like situation.

The dense growth of weeds and shrubs that occupy the vacant plots has turned into a habitat of reptiles. The residents are of the opinion that the plot owners will make up their mind to build a house only if MUDA responds to their demands for basic facilities.

After the wait for MUDA to provide basic amenities went in vain, two of the allottees built houses, but still the wait for basic amenities continues. For now, they have drawn electricity and water connections from the neighbouring Police Layout.

V. Rangaswamy, who resides in the locality, said: "During the previous tenure of Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, I was allotted Site Number: 339 through lottery. I have been constantly writing letters to MUDA since 2022 over the need for basic infrastructural facilities, nothing has fructified. Whenever I complain they issue an acknowledgment and send back with an excuse, not bothering to take note of the grievances. There are 500 sites and two of us have built houses, but live in fear. There are several instances of snakes slithering into our houses and got them rescued with the help of snake rescuers. If at least the electric poles are installed, some more plot owners will build houses here."

Prakash, a localite, said: "Two water tanks are built here but without water, wondering what was the purpose behind building them. If this is the fate of residential layouts developed by the Government, it would be further difficult to explain the plight. MUDA Officers should act on this at the earliest."

Narasimhaiah, who regularly goes on evening stroll in Lalithadrinagar with his friends, said: "The people are indiscriminately dumping waste here, thus marring the beautiful environs. The Officials should take stringent measures to prevent the locality from turning into unhygienic place. The long pending demand for basic infrastructural facilities should also be addressed."

India ahead in IQ from rest of world: Prof. Rangappa

Mysuru, July 10 (MTY&BS)- Former Vice-Chancellor (VC) of University of Mysore (UoM) Prof. K.S. Rangappa has said: "Unlike other countries in the world, India comparatively stands in a good position in Intelligent Quotient (IQ)."

He was speaking at a workshop on capacity development, organised at Maharani's Women's Commerce and Management College in Paduvarahalli here recently.

"In most of the countries, Indian origin scientists are more in numbers. If a country should be popular, the achievements of scientists and engineers add more value to its popularity. It is very much essential to acquire the skills in this globally competitive era. Those having abundant potential will be having the capacity to shape their future in any part of the world. Nowadays, we can come up in life by thinking at global level," said Prof. Rangappa.

As English is an internationally recognised language, many people prefer to learn the language. There is no discrimination for learning as in the present days, English is being taught from primary level itself, which is a good sign. It may help in producing more number of achievers in the future, felt Prof. Rangappa.

Most of the Nobel Prize winners have faced trouble due to language, but language did not come in their way of achievement. They have achieved amid several hurdles and the younger generation should accept such achievers as a model. Students should learn computer along with English. With the Government spending more on women's education, they should make use of the facility and find job, suggested Prof. Rangappa.

Prof. S.N. Hegde, also a former VC of UoM, said: "If one develops skills along with studies, nobody will remain unemployed. Many companies are investing here creating more job opportunities. Hence students must give impetus to skill education."

Principal of Maharani's College Prof. Somanna, former KSOU VC S.N. Ramegowda, Prof. S. Srikantaswamy, wellness and food expert Nandini Murthy were present.

Emergency Helpline '112'

City Cops respond to 11,585 distress calls from January 2023

FIRs registered for 597 cases; average response time is five to six minutes

Mysuru, July 10 (GA&BCT)- The Mysuru City Police have promptly responded to a staggering 11,585 emergency calls received on the dedicated '112' Emergency Response Support System (ERSS) from January this year till date, effectively safeguarding lives and properties.

On an average, 112 receives over 65 calls every day and the ERSS teams rush to help the victims within an impressive average time of just five to six minutes and a maximum time of 10 minutes unless there is a serious impediment. The teams respond to Police, fire and disaster-related emergencies and provide assistance on-site.

The '112' helpline service serves as a comprehensive and unified solution for all types of emergencies, akin to the well-known '911' system in the United States of America (USA). Whether it's through the telephone line or the user-friendly mobile application, it offers a versatile platform to raise SOS alerts in any emergency situation.

No jurisdiction limitation

This robust system is a part of the Government of India's ERSS initiative, which aims to provide prompt assistance to citizens in times of need. Mysuru City boasts a fleet of more than 20 dedicated '112' service vehicles, operational round the clock, with staff working on rotational shifts.

The ERSS has so far recorded FIRs for 597 cases and after resolving the issue, they provide updates on Twitter via the 112 account. Two officers are present in each emergency service vehicle, constantly patrolling and responding to emergencies. There is no jurisdiction limitation for emergency vehicles and they directly receive information from the City Police Commissioner's Office.

Upon reaching the incident site, the Police officers diligently assess the situation and initiate necessary actions for resolution. They work closely with the parties involved, providing appropriate guidance and support. In case immediate resolution is not possible, the jurisdictional Police Station is informed, ensuring effective follow-up and investigation. They also convey information to the callers through messages.

Download the app

The 112 app, available on both Android and iOS platforms, offers user-friendly functionality. Users can register by providing their phone number and verifying it through an OTP. The app only requires necessary information such as name, age and location details if the user wishes to register as a volunteer. Additionally, users are prompted to enter emergency contact details to notify a designated person in case of an emergency.

The app's interface is simple and straightforward, without any unnecessary frills. It features four prominent panic alert buttons at the bottom for fire, medical, Police and other emergencies. A Google Map integration allows users to pinpoint their location using a pin icon.

Panic alert button

When a panic alert button is pressed, the app automatically sends the user's details, including name, age, emergency contact and location, to local emergency service delivery departments and nearby volunteers.

Simultaneously, it generates an automated call to the State Emergency Control Room (112) and notifies the user's designated emergency contact. Upon receiving the panic alert, the app traces the user's location and initiates a call. Even if the user is unable to answer the call, emergency teams will be dispatched based on the location details provided.

The app also offers additional features such as Volunteer and Emergency Inbox, which allow users to track the progress of incidents and the delivery of emergency services. For further assistance, the emergency service cell can be contacted through the website https://ka.erss.in/

S. Jahnavi

There has been an excellent response from the 112 service and from the public. Officers have visited the incident site within five to seven minutes to address the problem. We are actively working towards improving the services of the helpline and organising awareness meetings with the public ensuring wider adoption of the emergency helpline. We are committed to incorporating technological advancements and maintaining a proactive approach to serve the community better.

Fountains at Brindavan Gardens getting a modern makeover

Russian Fountain, Cauvery Fountain, two smaller fountains undergo change to enhance aesthetics

Srirangapatna, July 10 (Vinay Karekura&BCT)- The process of refurbishing, rebranding and redesigning the renowned Brindavan Garden located at the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam, is now in full swing.

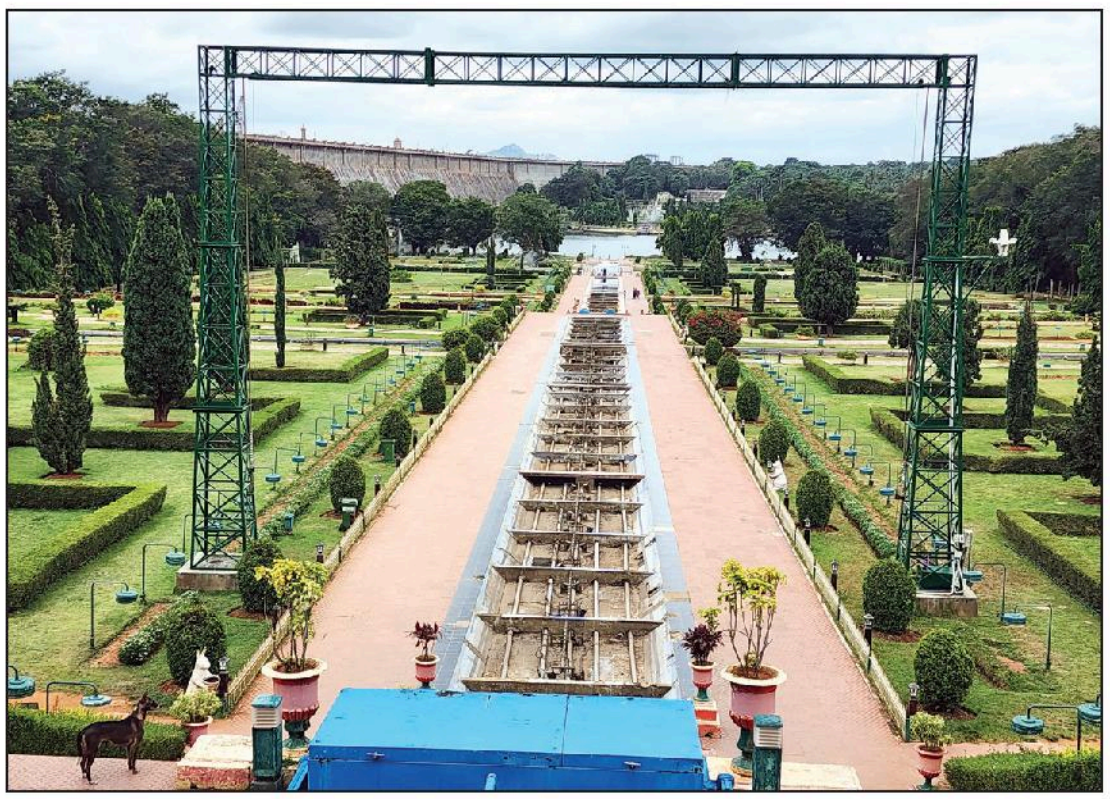
The project, which includes renovation works that were previously suspended due to the election Model Code of Conduct, began in May and is expected to be completed by the end of July as the three-month deadline for the project implementation agency will end then.

Under the supervision of the Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNNL), the estimated cost of the project — divided into parts — amounts to Rs. 5,38,00,000. One of the notable features of the Garden's transformation will be the captivating new design of the musical fountain.

Prior to commencing the redesigning work, CNNL engineers extensively studied various water fountains in India and abroad and based on their research, a comprehensive blueprint was prepared.

Earthworks for the project are nearly complete and all previous structures have been demolished to make way for the innovative redesign of the fountain. The new design will feature visually striking water jets that spring forth water synchronised with colourful lights and music.

Junior Engineer Sriganesh told Star of Mysore that the Russian Fountain, the Cauvery Fountain and the two fountains near the ticket counter (one inside and the other outside) are being renovated. The Russian Fountain and the Cauvery Fountain works have been taken up at an estimated cost of Rs. 33.65 lakh (Rs. 40 lakh including GST).



Russian Fountain and Cauvery Fountain

Both the historic fountain renovation includes dismantling the existing 25mm tiles and relaying them with plain cement concrete up to 75mm. On top of that, artistic ceramic tiles will be laid. Individual fountains, pipes, plumbing systems and nozzle systems will be new and unique for the Russian Fountain.

Rotating systems for the water to dance, assembly and reconditioning will be taken up and all the old aluminium nozzles will be replaced with new ones that are made of stainless steel for longevity. GI pipes at the top and SS material pipe will be laid below the fountain and to pump the water, a new 7.5-hp Kirloskar motor will be installed, the officer said.

For the Cauvery Fountain, a 10-hp motor will be used to pump water and both the fountains will have attractive LED lightings that will beckon tourists as soon as they enter the Gardens, officers added. While 36 LED lights will give a new look to the Russian Fountain, the Cauvery Fountain will sport 40 LED lights.

A fresh outlook

This is a completely fresh undertaking, involving the redesign and re-imagining of the number of fountains, their types, locations, heights and departure angles. The arrangement of water nozzles is of utmost importance to achieve a visually captivating water choreography for the dancing fountain, enhancing its overall aesthetic appeal.

The refurbishing works are being carried out by Canara Lighting, a Mangaluru-based company renowned for their expertise in architectural lighting systems, landscape design, aquascape fountains and water features.

Garden area renovation

Regarding the upgradation of the Garden area, officers said that the Gardens at South Park are called S1, S2 and S3. Tenders have been called for S1 and S2 and agreements have been finalised. Work will start in a matter of days and the total project cost is Rs. 4,98,00,000. "Two separate agencies will take up the work in a joint venture," Sriganesh added.

The fountains will undergo restoration incorporating numerous new structural elements and architectural features. "The intention is to introduce a blend of modern technology and artistic aesthetics into the design. The overall concept seeks to harmoniously combine modern art deco pipe fountains with the architectural essence, resulting in an innovative and visually captivating musical fountain," he explained.

Orchestra 181 mesmerises audience with diverse musical extravaganza

Mysuru, July 10 - In an evening filled with enchanting melodies and captivating performances, 'Orchestra 181' wowed a packed audience at the Jaganmohan Palace Auditorium on July 2.

The versatile orchestra, conducted by the renowned maestros Felix M. Joseph of Mysuru and Ivan Enos of Ooty, showcased a breath-taking range of musical pieces, transcending genres from classical masterpieces to popular to beloved Broadway hits.

'Orchestra 181' is an amalgamation of the Mysore Chamber Orchestra and the Nilgiris Ensemble along with The Coonoor Choir. The '181' is the old Highway number between Mysore and Nilgiris, a connection between the two teams. The Concert was dedicated to the Founder of St. Cecilia's School of Music, late J. Francis Xavier on his 103rd birth anniversary

'Orchestra 181' performing to a packed audience at Jaganmohan Palace auditorium in city on July 2.

'Orchestra 181' Conductors Felix M. Joseph (left) of the Mysore Chamber Orchestra and Ivan Enos of the Nilgiris Ensemble.

Orchestra 181 was armed with Violins, Violas, Cellos, Double Basses,Flutes,Clarinet,Trumpet, Trombones, Piano, percussion and Drums. Under the baton of Ivan Enos, the orchestra opened the evening with a solemn rendition of David Rutter's "Look at the World" as an apt invocation sung by the Coonoor Choir. The powerful notes resonated through the auditorium, stirring emotions and setting the tone for an unforgettable night of music.

Switching gears seamlessly under the baton of Mysore's own maestro retired Band Master of the Police Bands, Felix M. Joseph, Orchestra 181 transitioned into Classical mode by bombarding the audience with W.A Mozart's highly energetic "The Shepherd King," a composition that was well- received in Vienna where it was first performed. This was followed by 'The Golden Crown' by Herman which stunned the now already packed auditorium.

The evening continued with a series of carefully selected classical compositions, displaying the orchestra's exceptional range and virtuosity. The graceful melodies of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart's "Eine Klein Nachtmusik" and the emotional depth of "Orchestra Quartet" and "Air from Norma" left the audience captivated and spellbound.

The programme also had three virtuosic solo performances by Mysore's own Rohin Joseph on the Piano playing Mozart's "Rondo K485". The nimble fingered pianist showed that he was not a newbie to the instrument and executed his passages to utmost precision.

Bhavana Bharath, a Western classical vocalist from St. Cecilia's School of Music, performed Caesar Frank's celebrated song "Panis Angelicus" and transported the audience to a different world. The 11th standard student has all the makings of an accomplished singer.

Another budding Piano prodigy is Mithuna of Coonoor who belted out Fredrich Chopin's "Fantasia Impromptu". Her fingers danced all over the keyboard with careless precision and finesse. Like other youngsters, Bhavana and Mithuna are budding artistes that orchestra 181 is churning out and giving a them platform to showcase their talents.

Maestro Felix M. Joseph returned to conduct French composer François-Adrien Boieldieu's "The Kaliph of Baghdad," a highly energetic overture that displayed the colour of the orient from the famed opera by the same name.

The Orchestra didn't hold on to classical music for too long, they treated the audience with popular Tango by Gerardo Matos Rodríguez called "La cumparsita" followed by "Bella Ciao" from the popular Netflix drama 'Money Heist.' The audience immediately responded with a thunderous round of applause and sat there wanting more.

The collaboration between Felix Joseph and Ivan Enos brought an exquisite balance to the performances. The "ABBA Medley" with popular songs such as Mamma Mia, SOS, Dancing Queen, I have a dream and The Winner takes it all were well woven together and had the audiences singing to it.

Orchestra 181 along with The Coonoor Choir concluded the night with a grand finale, bringing the audience to their feet with a triumphant performance of the Broadway classics, transporting the audience to the vibrant world of musical theatre. From the captivating tunes of "The Sound of Music" to the infectious rhythms of "New York, New York" and culminating with "Thank you for the music," the orchestra along with choir breathed new life into these beloved compositions.

As the final notes reverberated through the auditorium, the crowd erupted in thunderous applause. The orchestra's ability to seamlessly navigate between different genres and evoke a myriad of emotions demonstrated their dedication to the craft and their unwavering commitment to delivering an extraordinary musical experience.

The concert at the Jaganmohan Auditorium will undoubtedly be remembered as a night of sheer musical brilliance, and Orchestra 181, along with conductors Felix M. Joseph and Ivan Enos, solidified their place as true masters of their craft. More live concerts are the need of the hour to instil values of the arts in the younger generation.

The programme was organised by M. Laxminarayan, President of the Mysore Music Association along with St. Cecilia's School of Music, Mysore.

The sound and lights were exceptionally handled by Michael Walter of Decibells Acoustics. Mrs. Dierdre of the Coonoor Choir did the introduction of the orchestra and Ms. Rachel Francis proposed a vote of thanks.

WORD OF THE DAY

Nudnik

Pronunciation: Nudnik refers to a person who is a bore or nuisance.
Origin: The suffix -nik, meaning "one connected with or characterised by being," came to English through Yiddish (and ultimately from Polish and Ukrainian). You might know it from such words as beatnik, peacenik, neatnik, or even no-goodnik. The suffix -nik is frequently used in English to create nonce words that are often playfully jokey or slightly derogatory. Some theorise that the popularity of the suffix was enhanced by Russian Sputnik, as well as Al Capp's frequent use of -nik words in his L'il Abner cartoons. The nud- of the Yiddish borrowing nudnik ultimately comes from the Polish word nuda, meaning "boredom."
Example: "A 'comic book obsessed nudnik,' [Anthony] Bourdain was born in Manhattan on his literary hero's birthday (George Orwell) and grew up in New Jersey. Deeply influenced by Hunter S. Thompson, 'Angry Anthony' was raised in a household under the 'smothering chokehold of love and normalcy,' as he wrote in Medium Raw." — Kirkus Reviews, 1 Aug. 2022.

THE ODD WORD

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Nail your colours to the mast

Meaning: To defiantly display one's opinions and beliefs. Also, to show one's intention to hold on to those beliefs until the end.
Origin: In 17th century nautical battles colours (flags) were struck (lowered) as a mark of submission. It was also the custom in naval warfare to direct one's cannon fire at the opponent's ship's mast, thus disabling it. If all of a ship's masts were broken the captain usually had no alternative but to surrender. If the captain decided to fight on this was marked by hoisting the colours on the remnants of the ship's rigging, that is, by 'nailing his colours to the mast'. The phrase originated in England and it is generally agreed that the expression was coined in reference to the exploits of the crew of the Venerable, at the Battle of Camperdown, a naval engagement that was fought between English and Dutch ships as part of the French Revolutionary Wars, in 1797. The English fleet was led by the Venerable, the flagship of Admiral Adam Duncan. The battle didn't initially go well for the English. The mainmast of Duncan's vessel was struck and the admiral's blue squadronal standard was brought down. This could have been interpreted by the rest of the fleet as meaning that Duncan had surrendered.
